CushionStone

What happens when technology improves on nature.

The modern look of stone and ceramic floors has proven to be a popular and enduring choice, particularly among people who live relaxed lifestyles in warmer climates such as Australia, Asia and the Mediterranean.

In the past homemakers have had to suffer the substantial cost of purchasing the stone and ceramics, installation, difficult repairs and removal, the hardness and coldness that made their feet and legs ache and the toll on their favourite crockery and glassware.

CushionStone, as per its name, delivers all the beauty of the look of natural stone and ceramics with advantages that make it a far wiser and more practical choice.

- More affordable to purchase and install
- More comfortable underfoot
- Won't crack or chip
- Less sound transfer
- More forgiving on whatever you may drop
- Can be installed over most levelled floors
- Easy to replace after many years of service
- A practical and modern 600 x 600 x 5mm tile featuring modular drop down floor technology that makes it quick to install and easy to replace*
- Fibreglass reinforcement for maximise stability
- Phthalate free. Contains no harmful fillers nor harmful plasticisers
- No quarrying that damages the environment
- The tiles are fastidious representations of the most popular stone and ceramic varieties
- Features a PUR surface treatment that minimises maintenance for busy people

after applying a pressure sensitive adhesive to the subfloor.*
